COURSE

DETENTION LAW & LEGAL ISSUES 19

A block of instruction which is designed to orient the student officer to the methods, practices and procedures in Wyoming Criminal Law, including the classification of crimes and punishments. It also introduces the student to the constitutionally guaranteed rights of prisoners, as well as trends and issues raised in current case law. Special attention is given to juveniles' rights, medical/legal requirements in jails and an introduction to civil liability as it relates to jail operations. An effort is made to balance the legal restraints with the practical guidelines, which must be followed to insure the safe and efficient operation of a jail.
